

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A coloring book for children has a plurality of page sets bound or stapled wherein a page set includes a pair of background sheets, each having different background design, and a sharing page putted in between the background sheets and having basic designs on a front and rear surface thereof so as to be coordinated with the background designs when folded with each of the background sheets.

5